"Today's schools shape tomorrow's society."

"The challenge... is to prepare all students to participate in further education and to become productive employees..."

"The curriculum is the tool through which we must equip students for success in a complex and changing world."

Today's schools shape tomorrow's society. In two short decades, our secondary and elementary students will be the citizens, scholars, scientists, and leaders determining the destiny of our country and our world.

The challenge facing educators, then, is to prepare all students to participate in further education and to become productive employees in the workplace. This challenge includes planning and delivering instruction which results in broad and widespread achievement of the core curriculum by all students.

The curriculum is the tool through which we must equip students for success in a complex and changing world. Graduates of our schools must be able to use the intellectual tools they have acquired in school in order to participate intelligently in our democracy, enjoy lifelong learning, and make a living in a competitive world where the most sought after talents are learning, thinking, and self-discipline.

In addition to the delivery of a strong curriculum, the challenge can be met through improved access to educational opportunities, higher expectations for students, and expanded school-community-parent partnerships.

"This curriculum guide represents a reconciliation of curriculum and the limits of time."

"...this document includes a statement of philosophy and broad goals... objectives...scope and sequence... instructional planning guides which include teaching activities... [and] sample units..."

"Use the guide as a resource for instructional planning and reference its use in both lesson plans and grade books."

To The Teacher:

This curriculum guide represents a reconciliation of curriculum content and the limits of time. Its purposes are to promote greater student achievement through alignment of the written, the taught, and the tested curriculum; and to promote broader and higher levels of thinking through objectives, and strategies which integrate content and cognition.

Teachers and staff have worked to define the curriculum for the Fort Worth Independent School District. Their efforts have resulted in the production of this document which includes

- a statement of philosophy and broad goals for each content area. These should help guide curricular decisions and articulate the district's aspirations for students as a result of their participating in a program or programs.
- objectives organized around broad content goals or strands. These define more specific expectations for students in each subject or course, prekindergarten through Grade 12.
- scope and sequence charts which display the core content of a subject or course and how this content develops over the span of various instructional levels.
- instructional planning guides which include suggested teaching activities, assessment types, and reteaching and enrichment ideas.
- sample units which show the instructional planning process or the kind of thinking that teachers engage in as they plan instruction.
- bibliographies, annotated lists of school and community resources, reading lists, and other supplementary materials.

Your role in the successful use of this guide is crucial. Use the guide as a resource for instructional planning and reference its use in both lesson plans and grade books. We hope you will join the collaboration by contributing ideas for activities, assessments, and units as well as by responding to the appropriateness and utility of this document. Response forms are included to facilitate this process.

We acknowledge the contributions of curriculum writing teams and the leadership of program staff without whom this guide would not have been possible. We appreciate, also, the desktop publishing skills and expertise of the Office of Curriculum Production and Distribution in formatting and printing this publication.

FORT WORTH INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Fort Worth Independent School District is to prepare students to assume economic, social, civic, and cultural responsibilities in a complex and changing society. This requires the provision of a well-balanced curriculum for all students that assures mastery of the basic skills of literacy, mathematics, and critical thinking. In addition to establishing this broad intellectual base, the district must provide opportunities for all students to develop attitudes and skills that promote mental, physical, and emotional fitness; economic and occupational proficiency; an appreciation for the aesthetic; and lifelong learning.

GOALS

Goal 1 STUDENT PERFORMANCE--All students will be expected to meet or exceed stated educational performance standards of high achievement, master the essential elements, and participate in appropriate school programs.

Goal 2 CURRICULUM--Offer a well-balanced curriculum in order that students may realize their learning potential and prepare for productive lives.

Goal 3 QUALITY TEACHING AND SUPERVISION--Ensure effective delivery of instruction.

Goal 4 ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT--Provide organization and management which will be productive, efficient, and accountable at all levels of the educational system.

Goal 5 FINANCE--Provide adequate and equitable funding to support quality instructional programs and quality schools.

Goal 6 PARENT AND COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT--Improve schools by involving parents and other members of the community as partners.

Goal 7 INNOVATION--Improve the instructional program through the development and use of alternative delivery methods.

Goal 8 COMMUNICATIONS--Provide consistent, timely, and effective communication among all public education entities and personnel.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

To ensure broad-based participation in the development of this document, curriculum writing teams were composed of teachers representing a cross section of the Fort Worth Independent School District. In addition, various curriculum components were validated through sampling procedures involving the entire district. This document, therefore, is the result of the efforts and collaboration of many teachers and administrators.

The Social Studies Department gratefully acknowledges the contributions of persons who served on curriculum writing committees as well as those who participated in the validation process. Members of the curriculum writing committees are as follows:

SOCIAL STUDIES EDUCATION
GRADES PK-12

> We can chart our future clearly and wisely only when we know the path which has led to the present.
> --Adlai Stevenson (1952)

PHILOSOPHY

The social studies program assumes responsibility for some of the major purposes of education: recognizing the diversity of cultural heritage and improving our society through the preparation of students for responsible citizenship. This means that the program must produce individuals who possess a working knowledge of the economic, geographic, cultural, political, and social factors that make up the human ecosystem. Students must also understand, experience, and gain appreciation for the principles of democracy, rule of law, fair play, the work ethic, and civic responsibility. Without a conscious effort to teach and learn these things, a free republic can not endure. Thus, a priority for the social studies program is to ensure the survival of the United States as a free nation through the development of enlightened democratic citizens. Social studies education is, therefore, centrally concerned with the teaching of citizenship and government.

Enlightened citizens have a knowledge of their past. Such knowledge informs and builds on the strengths of the past and avoids the repetition of its errors. Social studies education, then, is concerned with history. An emphasis on the chronology of history does not negate a thematic approach to the other social sciences but builds upon the interrelationships existing among the disciplines.

Social studies education is likewise concerned with geography. It begins with place awareness and knowledge of physical characteristics and leads to awareness of the decision-making process in relation to the environment. Responsible citizenship presumes an ability to participate effectively at local, state, national, and international levels. Social studies education must prepare students for informed economic decision making based on the ability to analyze the operations, benefits, and limitations of our free enterprise system. Finally, recognizing the multi-ethnic population of our society leads to an awareness of our cultural diversity. Shared cultural knowledge is important because it is basic to an understanding of our pluralistic society.

Students must be able to understand and function in an ever changing, complex world of interdependence. They must be prepared to work creatively, aesthetically, and ethically toward the resolution of human problems. This ability depends on the nurturing of favorable attitudes and a general and widespread proficiency in basic intellectual as well as participatory skills. Social studies education, therefore, is concerned with multi-cultural studies, critical thinking and decision-making skills, and integrating these skills into the total program.

RATIONALE AND PURPOSE

The purpose of this guide is to provide teachers a tool for planning instruction in social studies which is targeted toward local goals and objectives as well as to the Texas Education Agency essential elements. This document is not designed to be restrictive; rather, it should assist teachers in making instructional decisions which will result in the mastery of objectives by all students.

This guide has been prepared to serve the social studies program in the following ways:

- Improve curriculum, instructional planning, and decision making
- Provide criteria for the selection of textbooks, supplemental instructional materials, and assessments
- Communicate curriculum content to educators and the community
- Provide instructional strategies for PK-12 articulation

GOALS

The student will:

1. Recognize the past, present, and future consequences and/or implications of geography, history, economics, politics, and other social science disciplines on humankind.

2. Demonstrate an understanding that people and the environment are interrelated.

3. Demonstrate a global awareness and understanding of world-wide interdependence.

4. Demonstrate an awareness, appreciation, and acceptance of cultural diversity.

5. Demonstrate an awareness and basic understanding of social problems, concerns, and issues.

6. Demonstrate an understanding of and support for the democratic process.

7. Assume economic, civic, and cultural responsibilities.

8. Apply problem-solving techniques to real-life situations.

9. Demonstrate effective communication skills in order to function in a global society.

10. Integrate and apply concepts from various social science disciplines.

5. Compare and contrast the impact of conflicting ideologies. (4I-J, 5C, 5H)	pp. 692, 751-52, 758-771, 775, 779-781 The U.S. and the Origins of the Cold War 1941-1947, John Lewis Gadis Iron Destinies, Lost Opportunities: The Arms Race Between the USA and the USSR, 1945-1987, Charles Morris
6. Explain the impact of Soviet influence and ideology around the world. (5C, G)	pp. 685-689, 839, 841, 855, 868-871
1. Explain global economic interdependence including patterns of production and resource use. (5D-E, I)	pp. 831-835
8. Trace the evolution of international organizations and evaluate their attempts to avoid global conflicts. (5B-C)	pp. 447-449, 660-661, 754-762
*7. Research significant 20th century leaders. (4A-D)	Choose significant leaders from people studied in text and other sources. This will require a variety of other sources besides textbooks. Utilize library materials, films, newspapers, magazines, etc. Independent study project required here.

Certain objectives are taught throughout the course/grade level.

Non-Sequential Objectives (Essential Elements)	Resources
The following objectives do not have to be taught sequentially.
A. STRAND 1
3. Interpret relationships between location and accomplishments/failures of ancient civilizations. (1A-D)	pp. 9-13, 17-24, 26-28, 38-42, 49-52, 69-71
*4. Research significant individuals and events. (4A-D)	Choose individuals that are key figures. Library research or outside projects should be assigned here. There is not enough in the book for research.
B. STRAND 2
*5. Draw conclusions about the economic, social, and/or political impacts of religion on Western civilization. (3B-C, 4B-C, F)	pp. 162-166, 204-222, 233-237
*6. Analyze and interpret primary and secondary source material. (4F)	Use resource material supplied by publishers. Use materials in chapters throughout the book. Use Readings in World History.
*7. Relate architectural, artistic, and literary accomplishments to political and economic environments. (5F)	pp. 23, 27, 29-31, 56, 64, 78, 102-104, 107, 125-132, 172-173, 193-174, 210-214, 259-264, 274, 325-332
*8. Analyze the emergence of political institutions. (4A)	pp. 395-451
*9. Research the role of women and minorities in Western civilizations. (4A, 5J)	Page references - check index in textbook. Outside resources needed here. Assign as library research topic.
C. STRAND 3
*2. Compare and contrast the response of non-western nations to western ideals, nationalism, and imperialism. (4E, J-K)	pp. 359, 460-463, 465-468, 473-475, 691-696, 704-707, 807-819
D. STRAND 4
*1. Describe and locate major physical features, landforms, and countries of the world. (1A)	pp. XXV-XXIX, R2-21 In each chapter geography should be stressed. Maps are provided in the textbook and an atlas is at the back of the textbook. Use maps in rooms and map kits as available.
2. Explain the reasons for the development of major colonies. (4E)	pp. 599-625
3. Identify the economic effects of non-market economic systems. (1E)	pp. 507-511, 680-687, 767-768, 775-779

Certain objectives are taught throughout the course/grade level.

Non-Sequential Objectives (Essential Elements)	Resources
*4. Analyze the impact of physical features on cultural, social, economic, and historical developments. (1B-C)	Stressed in many chapters of the text. Use up-to-date geography texts as supplemental material for general information.
*5. Describe changes in technology, trade, commerce, transportation, and communications. (1D, 5E)	pp. 489-524, 875-884
6. Draw conclusions about the relationship of man and scarce natural resources. (5D, H)	pp. 833-836 Outside resources can be used. Magazines might be utilized to bring student up-to-date on current conservation efforts. Utilize private corporations for study material.

*Certain objectives are taught throughout the course/grade level.

- student interest

Grade Placement: 11-12

EXIT PROCEDURES FOR HONORS COURSES

1. At the end of the first three weeks of the course, a student-parent-teacher conference must be held for students with a course average of 80 or lower to discuss the student's academic progress. As a result of this conference

   - the student may be exited from the course and placed in another appropriate course or

   - a plan for the improvement of the student's performance in the course will be developed, agreed to, and implemented.

2. Prior to the end of the first six weeks of the course, a student-teacher-parent conference must be held for students failing to maintain a passing grade of 70. Options to be discussed at the conference are

   - exiting the student from the course and placement in another appropriate course and

   - developing a plan for the improvement of the student's performance with specific target dates for progress reports to student and parent.

Any recommendations to exit students from honors courses after the first six weeks of instruction must be considered very carefully and are to be made only after a conference which includes student, teacher, parent, and principal.

SOCIAL STUDIES TEACHING STRATEGIES

DESCRIPTION

The study of social studies is intended to help students understand the forces that shape society and bind people together in the international community in which we live. The teaching approach in social studies can be thematic, chronological, or conceptual. Any of these approaches lends itself to establishing a relationship between past and present and implications for the future.

In order to comprehend the wealth of knowledge within the broad spectrum that is social studies, students must be taught to process information in ways that maximize their learning. One way to advance student learning to optimum levels is through the thinking/writing process.

As students develop thinking/writing skills, they will begin to acquire competencies in all academic levels. Furthermore, talking, writing, and thinking must be interrelated. Rexford Brown underscores this philosophy "...higher literacies call for students to analyze, think critically, evaluate, synthesize information, communicate more effectively, solve problems, learn how to learn, and in general learn far more actively than traditionally."

Writing to Think

Writing to think is a model for teachers to help students. There are six strands to the model: selecting information, seeing relationships, using prior knowledge, considering alternative points of view, creating and assessing a plan, and creating/acknowledging dissonance. By using these processes, students will become proficient problem solvers through the medium of writing.

The process starts with using a unit or mini-unit social studies objective to develop a rationale or purpose for the writing/thinking instructional activities. Prior work is given to prepare the student for the writing assignment. Subsequent work and assessment are also part of this process.

The following examples indicate how these writing to think strategies can be implemented using the social studies content.

Selecting information involves choosing relevant and appropriate examples based on a given criterion.

Lead the class to a consensus regarding the qualities of a good citizen. Then view file footage that spotlights a particular person. Have the group look for actions that show that the person has/does not have these qualities.

Seeing relationships involves asking students to look for patterns or trends; to notice similarities and differences; to look for motives, purposes, or causes and effects; to locate events in a chronological or numerical sequence; or to determine how something (an object, action or, person) relates to the physical setting in which it is found.

Describe the basic economic needs of an 8-year old Cambodian and an 8-year old United States' citizen.

How did Uncle Tom's Cabin impact slavery in the United States?

Given data relative to the Alaskan oil spill at Valdez, what can you conclude about the effect on the environment?

Use a simulation that involves a dead lock situation. Work out a compromise that is acceptable to both sides.

Using prior knowledge involves using that information which students acquire either through formal or informal and personal educational experiences.

Using what you have learned about public and private property, write a paragraph that vividly describes ways that neighborhood parks are used for recreational purposes.

Considering alternative points of view involves looking at both sides of an issue and acknowledging the possibility of a point of view different from the one originally held.

How might a Mexican soldier report the Battle of the Alamo?

How would a British sea merchant describe the Boston Tea Party?

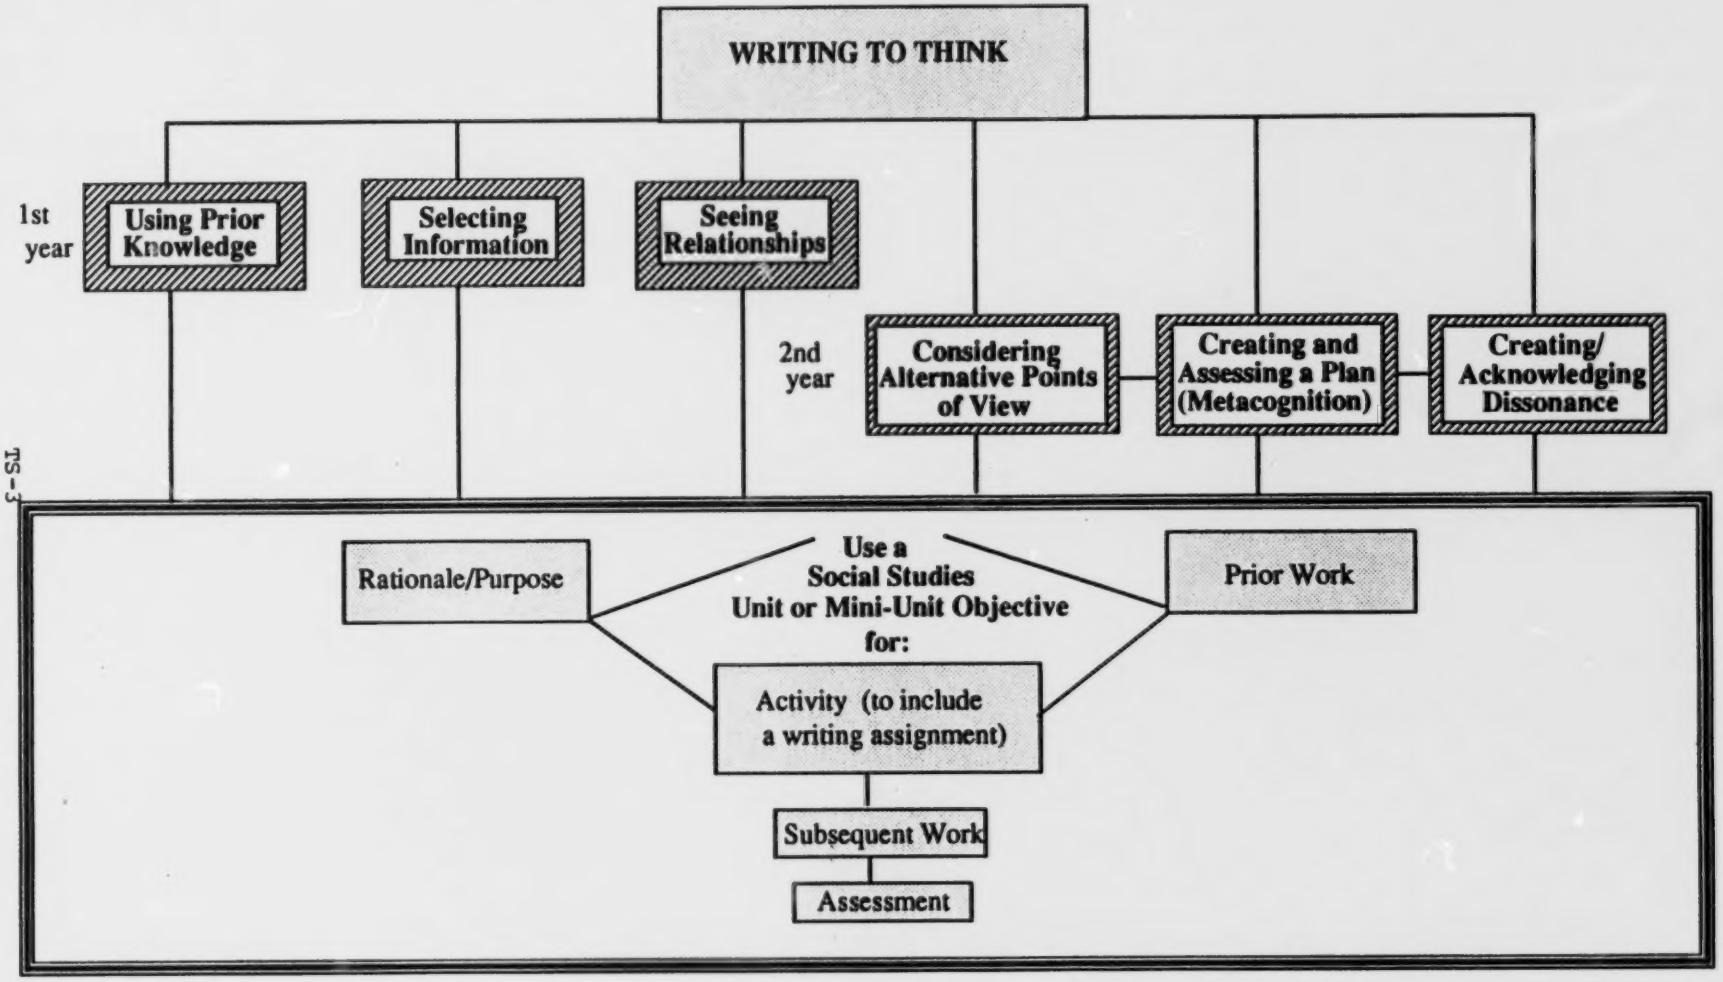
Creating and assessing a plan involves developing a problem-solving strategy to address a specific task and then assessing that strategy as one tries to use it.

Describe the steps that might be involved in a slave's escaping to freedom in the North.

Creating/acknowledging dissonance involves recognizing major conflicts of questions in events, philosophies, rulings, actions, and documents.

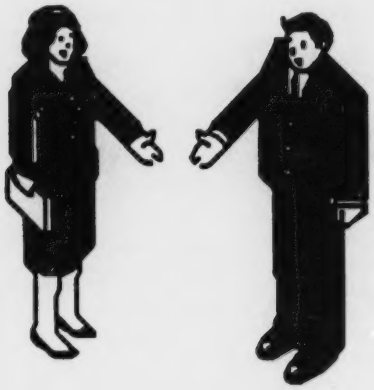
Explain why the premise of equality for all as stated in the Preamble to the United States Constitution and the provision that permitted slave trade through 1808 are inconsistent and in conflict.

READING AND WRITING TO THINK IN SOCIAL STUDIES



Problem-solving process

TEACHING STRATEGIES



ACTIVITY I

DEBATE - Provides practice in all of the communications
Skills: reading, writing, speaking, listening, and specially, thinking

PROCEDURE

A. Getting Started - Background Information

1. Define debate - organized argument between knowledgeable people.

2. Give students handouts with the essential terms and procedures.
   - Video tape of previous debate is desirable.
   - If not available, directions and explanations must be extremely clear.

Activities to Promote Critical Thinking,* Fran Caldweel, Newport High School, Newport, Oregon

B. Selecting a Topic

1. Pair up students with a partner.

2. Two sets of partners are put together - thus forming the debate unit.
   - Appear to do this randomly but should actually place the stronger teams against each other

3. Students meet in their debate units to accomplish three tasks.
   - Select a current, interesting, and controversial issue
   - Write a clear resolution stated in the affirmative
   - Determine affirmative and negative teams

(Teacher may opt to supply a list of topics in an attempt to speed up process.)

C. Developing the Argument

1. Students begin their research.
   - Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature is the most useful reference. Other references should be made available in library.
   - Interviews applicable

2. Students should take careful notes and make sure each item of information is documented.

3. Allow five days for research process.

4. Partners plan and rehearse their cases together.
   - Two days can be allowed in class for organizing and preparing the debate speeches.

5. Affirmatives must begin by defining terms and then proceed through each stock issue.

6. Negatives must defend the status quo and attack the contentions of the affirmatives.

7. Partners should keep in mind that the strongest evidence is best presented last.

8. Students should be encouraged to write their speeches in outline form. This will discourage them from empty reading.
   - Good eye contact is necessary to be convincing.

9. During the recess, partners discuss ways to refute what the other side has said.
   - note taking during other side's arguments
   - attempt to anticipate opponent's arguments

10. Rebuttals should follow a plan and may be given by one or both partners.
    - All points made in the constructive speech should be reiterated one by one, following each by what the opponent said to disapprove it and then given more evidence to reestablish it.
    - A good rebuttal should end with a summary and a statement of the debaters' belief in the soundness of their argument.

D. Presentation

1. Debaters sit at their respective desks in front of the room.
   - Face opponents, yet the desks are slanted enough so that the audience can see the debaters' faces as well.

2. Remind students to speak in loud, clear voices with correct pronunciation and appropriate expression.

3. Strict formality is upheld: the debaters and their positions are introduced to the audience; an official timekeeper watches the clock and warn debaters nonverbally when one minute remains.
   - Only debaters are permitted to speak, except during the recess.

4. A schedule should be drawn up so students know on exactly which day they will debate.

5. Five judges should be selected from outside the class and allowed some time to familiarize themselves with the judging form.

6. Only one judge is needed for each debate.
   - Judge uses the debate form provided, which was devised by the American Forensic Association.
   - Post on bulletin board.

E. Assessment

Students can now write a persuasive essay because they have already formulated two strong thesis statements and collected a set of supporting details.

ACTIVITY II.

JURY-TRIAL TECHNIQUE - Debate technique that is excellent because it can involve a large number of the class in active participation. In this technique the class simulates courtroom procedures to discuss an issue or problem. The procedure seems to be a simple one, but it requires careful preparation if it is to go smoothly.

PROCEDURE

A. Select an issue or problem to debate. It adds interest if one of the students can act as a defendant.

B. Select lawyers, researchers, and witnesses for both sides. These groups can be as large as you wish, but if they are too large, they become cumbersome. The teacher can act as judge, or better yet, some responsible student can be named for that position. Another pupil should be selected court stenographer, or recorder, to keep a record of what transpires. All members of the class who are not lawyers, researchers, witnesses, or current officials, are the jury.

C. All students should research the problems. The lawyers and witnesses should get the facts from their own research and from that of the other class members.

D. Conduct the trial

1. The lawyers open up with their arguments.
2. Witnesses present their evidence.
3. Lawyers questions and cross examine
4. Lawyers from each side sum up. Each should point out how the evidence favors his/her side.
5. The judge sums up, points out errors in the arguments, fallacies, and misstatements of facts.
6. The class, acting as the jury, votes on which side won the argument.

ESSENTIAL TERMS

Controversial issue: a subject that can be argued and supported from opposing points of view.

Resolution: (sometimes called the preposition): a statement which defines the nature of the controversy, is stated in the affirmative, and provides a basis for argument for or against.

Affirmative: the person who upholds the resolution, who argues for a change in what presently exists.

Negative: the person who argues against the change proposed in the resolution, who upholds the conditions as they presently exist.

Definition of Terms: a clear explanation of the resolution, defining and limiting ideas; it is the affirmative teams responsibility, but the negative team must approve.

Evidence: the material offered as proof in an argument; it can be in the form of: (1) quotations from authorities; (2) examples of actual situations or case histories, or (3) facts and statistics.

Status Quo: a Latin term meaning the existing state of affairs, the present or the current belief and actions.

Burden of Proof: rests on the affirmative, who must prove that the status quo is unsatisfactory and that the affirmative way is better; because the affirmative has a more difficult task, this side is given the advantages of starting and ending the debate.

Stock Issues: those issues which must be proved by the affirmative (1) the need for the change, (2) the practicality of the change, (3) the desirability of the change.

Presumption: the assumption that the negative is "right" until proven wrong"

Constructive Speeches: given in the first part of the debate; they present the major arguments with evidence.

Rebuttals: given in the second part of the debate; the process of rebuilding after attack or defending from attack.

ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS IN SOCIAL STUDIES
ATTITUDES, VALUES, AND SKILLS FOR CITIZENSHIP, GRADES 7-12

(1) Respect for self and others. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) respect beliefs of other individuals, groups, and cultures;
(B) be aware that some things are valued more in some groups and cultures than in others;
(C) recognize how societal values affect individual beliefs and attitudes; and
(D) recognize that individuals must accept the consequences of their decisions.

(2) Democratic beliefs and personal respoonsibility. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) respect the principles that underlie the Texas and the United States Constitutions, the Bill of Rights, and the Declaration of Independence;
(B) consider one's own values as well as those of others when making political decisions;
(C) value open-mindedness, tolerance of differing opinions, and civic participation as important aspects of democratic behavior;
(D) respect the laws of one's society and work responsibly to change laws that one judges to be unjust;
(E) understand the importance of individual participation in civic affairs;
(F) understand that legal rights and protections must be balanced with civic responsibilities;
(G) recognize the value of compromise in the democratic process;
(H) examine reasons that participation and decision making in civic affairs require knowledge, time, and personal efforts;
(I) identify legal rights, responsibilities, and protection afforded juveniles and adults;
(J) support the democratic processes of the republican form of government;
(K) support the basic values of American society (e.g., justice, responsibilities, freedom, respect for the law, diversity, privacy, private property rights, free enterprise, and voluntary exchange); and
(L) support the rules and laws of one's school, community, state, and nation.

(3) Support for the American economic system. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) recognize the contributions of the American economic system to the standard of living of Americans;
(B) support the role of profit in the American market system;
(C) believe in the right of individuals to acquire, use, and dispose of property;

(D) support the freedom of consumers to choose how to spend their income;
(E) recognize that citizens, through legal political activities, can influence economic decisions make by government;
(F) acknowledge the role of government in regulating unreasonable restraint on competition by either producers or consumers;
(G) support competition by either producers or consumers;
(H) support competition as it affects the quantity and quality of goods and services produced;
(I) recognize that as individuals act in their own economic interest they may also serve the economic interest of others; and
(J) compare the control and treatment of public and private property.

(4) Application of social studies skills. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) locate and gather information;
(B) observe for detail;
(C) translate information from one medium to another;
(D) organize and express ideas in written form;
(E) distinguish fact from opinion;
(F) analyze information;
(G) draw conclusions;
(H) synthesize information;
(I) develop criteria for making judgments;
(J) use problem-solving skills;
(K) sequence historical data and information;
(L) draw inferences; and
(M) perceive cause-effect relationships.

ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS IN SOCIAL STUDIES
WORLD HISTORY STUDIES

(1) Relationships between geography and history. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) describe the physical and cultural geographic characteristics of places studied;

(B) understand the effects of the physical environment on the history of cultures and societies;

(C) examine the effects of human modifications of the physical environment in places and time periods studied;

(D) explain the effects of new forms of transportation, trade, and communications on historical developments; and

(E) compare the effects on the development of resources in countries where private property rights have been honored and where they have not.

(2) Early civilizations of Asia, Africa, and the Western Hemisphere and their contributions to world civilizations. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) analyze the river valley civilizations (Middle East, China, Indus Valley, and Nile Valley);

(B) describe the kingdoms, societies, and cultures of Africa;

(C) understand the cultures and societies of pre-Columbian North, Central, and South America; and

(D) trace the historical development, precepts, and influences of Buddhism, Hinduism, and Confucianism.

(3) Foundations of western civilization. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) describe Greek and Roman societies and their contributions;

(B) trace the historical development, precepts, and influences of Judaism, Christianity, and Islam; and

(C) analyze the growth and impact of the Byzantine empire.

(4) Emergence of European predominance. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) trace the origins and basis for the concepts of liberty, individual freedom, property rights, and representative government;

(B) describe the political, social, economic, and cultural aspects of Europe in the Middle Ages;

(C) identify the causes, characteristics, and impact of the Reformation and Renaissance;

(D) analyze the development of nationalism and the nation-state (with emphasis on England, France, and Spain);

(E) describe the causes and effects of European expansion (discovery, exploration, colonization, investment, and mercantilism);

(F) identify the causes, characteristics, and effects of the Enlightenment;

(G) understand the causes and results of political revolutions (emphasis on 18th and 19th century North, Central, and South America; England; and France);

(H) analyze the causes, characteristics, and results of the Industrial Revolution (including the increased productivity and prosperity resulting from the Industrial Revolution);

(I) trace the development of capitalism, socialism, and communism;

(J) describe the development of nationalism and completion of nation-building (emphasis on Germany, Italy, and Soviet Union); and

(K) explain the causes and effects of Western imperialism.

(5) Contemporary world developments. The student shall be provided opportunities to:

(A) examine nationalism, anticolonial revolutions, and development of new states in Asia, Africa, and the Middle East noting economic and political perspectives;

(B) explain the causes and effects of limited and unlimited wars (WWI-II, Korea, Viet Nam, Afghanistan, Middle East, etc.);

(C) explain the causes and effects of Soviet expansion, imperialism, and the struggle for world domination based on the stated goal of world communism;

(D) analyze the impact of changing economic relations and economic interdependence among regions and nations;

(E) trace the developments in and impact of science and technology (space, medicine, and communications) noting the positive impact of individual freedom and incentives on technological advancement);

(F) identify developments in the arts, literature, religion, and philosophy;

(G) describe the growth of authoritarian and totalitarian governments (communist, socialist, and fascist) and their adverse effects on liberty, freedom, and human rights;

(H) contrast the effects on productivity and living standards of countries with similar resource bases but with market economies vs. restricted economies;

(I) explain the positive aspects and effects of American capitalism upon the world; and

(J) describe democratic forms of governments, their growth, and explain the positive effects of American democracy on liberty, freedom, and human rights.

PHYSICAL SAFETY, GRADES 9-12

PRACTICES AND RULES OF SAFETY	Resources: Instructional	Resources: Community
School Safety Rules
ACTIVITY: Using materials safety data sheets (MSDS) transparencies of Benedict's Solution and sodium hydroxide, instruct students how to read and to interpret MSDS sheets. Have students complete student study guide sheets by working individually, in pairs, or in groups on sulfuric acid.		10
Assessment: Distribute an MSDS sheet on cupric sulfate and have students individually list the following information: a. formula, b. appearance, c. reactivity, d. health hazards, e. fire hazards, f. special precautions.
(Essential Elements/Activities/Assessments: TE-75.50.5, 75.50.7B, 75.85.6, 75.85.6C)
Home Safety Rules
(Essential Elements/Activities/Assessments: HE-6.7B, CHE pp. 143-146; b.8B, CHE pp. 177-180; i.3D, FSN pp. 39-45; j. IE, AFSN pp. 10-13)		11
PEOPLE HELP EACH OTHER TO BE SAFE
School Personnel
ACTIVITY: In the annual staff development workshop on the Texas Hazard Communication Act, teachers will work in groups to interpret and use MSDS to read and interpret NFPA chemical labels and to state general safety procedures.		10
Assessment: Teachers will state the major features of the Texas Hazard Communications Act and provide evidence that the individual components are being implemented in their individual classrooms and laboratories.
(Essential Elements/Activities/Assessments: TE-75.50.7A, TE-75.85.6)
CIVIC RESPONSIBILITIES TOWARD SAFETY
Respecting and Supporting Laws of Society
(Local Objectives: SS-A.V.S. 1D, 2A-2L)
ACTIVITY: As a class, prepare a list of community resource people whom students might interview regarding state and city government. Help students develop questions that will help them learn respect for law.		13
Assessment: Divide the class into groups of four. Tell members of each group to evaluate (validate or invalidate) each of the questions about respect for the law and tell why they selected the person they did.
Support State and National Laws
(Essential Elements/Activities/Assessments: HE-e.4B, PCD pp. 85-86; TE-75.86.6C)		13

PSYCHOLOGICAL SAFETY

BEHAVIOR AND CONSEQUENCES

	Resources
	Instructional	Community
Accepting Consequences of Decisions
(Local Objectives: Psychology B.6, B.7, Sociology B.3)
ACTIVITY: This activity is an opportunity for group members to learn more about their own thoughts and feelings and to practice understanding the thoughts and feelings of others. Hint: The teacher can "prime the group" by preparing one or more members beforehand to be prepared to be the first volunteer to tell about their thoughts/feelings. Group members need to be trained both to analyze their feelings and to listen to others.	Argus-A division of DLM Communications-Lifetime (1975)	4 7 16
PROCEDURE: Seat students in a circle so that each person can see everyone else. Remind students of the basic rules. 1. No put downs, name callings, etc. 2. Each person has equal opportunity to talk if they wish 3. No interruptions and no one forced to talk
Keep session short (10-20 min. per topic) and keep the discussion flowing. Do not let one or two students dominate. At the end of the sessions ask the following type of closure questions. 1. What did you learn from this session? 2. What did you notice during this session that was of special interest to you or that surprised you? 3. What did you learn about yourself or someone else you didn't know before? 4. How did you feel about sharing such thoughts/feelings? 5. In what way did this experience make you feel good? bad?
TOPICS 1. Something New or Good in My Life 2. One of the Nicest Things That Ever Happened to Me 3. Something I Enjoy Doing That I Do Well 4. Something I Think Is Beautiful 5. A Time I Trusted My Feelings/Instincts 6. A Time I Felt Sad 7. A Time I Was Very Angry 8. A Time I Was Embarrassed 9. Something I Like and Don't Like or About Which I Feel Good and Bad 10. A Time I Helped Someone or Did Something Nice for Someone 11. Remembering a Special Time and What Made It Special (Who Was There? What Were the Surroundings? What Happened?)
Assessment: Have students answer the following question: How do feelings of anger affect dealing with other people?
Recognizing Signs of Abusive Behavior
(Local Objective: H-B.10)
ACTIVITY: Discuss the physical, verbal, emotional, and sexual forms of abusive behavior which a child may experience, as well as the variety of physical and behavioral symptoms that abused children may exhibit.	Houghton Mifflin Human Sexuality, pp. 141-142	7 4 19 22

	Resources
	Instructional	Community
Assessment: Have students draw three columns on a sheet of paper. Have them label the three columns "Behavioral," "Emotional," and "Physical." Students are to describe four signs of abuse in each of the three columns.	Houghton Mifflin Health, p. 296
Accepting Consequences of Behavior
(Essential Elements/Activities/Assessments: HE-e.lD, ACD pp. 10-14; b. lD, CHE pp. 7-10; c.3B, ACD pp. 93-96; d.8B, PCD pp. 5-6)		4 6 7
DEVELOPING A POSITIVE SELF-CONCEPT
Demonstrating Respect for Self and Others
(Local Objectives: Sociology B.2, B.3; Psychology B.6)		16 18 21
ACTIVITY: The teacher gives each student three activity sheets (see Handouts #1, 2, 3) allowing ten minutes for completion. When all of the students have finished, the teacher will prompt the students share their answers. For example: "Jim, can you share with the group some of the words you choose for What Are you like. Sue, what were some important items you identified on "What's Important to You? What items were not important to you? If possible, all students should be encouraged to share their answers.
Assessment: Have the students write the answers to these questions: 1. List five things that you feel would best describe you as a person. 2. List the items that you had difficulty answering. Why?
ACTIVITY: 1. Distribute one lemon to each student. Direct each student to examine his/her lemon carefully by rolling it, squeezing it, fondling it, inspecting it, etc. Ask them "to get to know their lemon" and select a name for it. Encourage them to identify in their minds the strengths and weaknesses of their lemon. 2. Collect all the lemons and visibly mix them up in front of the group. 3. Spread out all the lemons on a table and ask all students to come forward and select their original lemon. If conflicts develop over their choices, assist the parties in reconciling their differences, or simply note the failure to agree and use that as a basis for later discussion.
Discussion Questions: 1. How many are very sure they reclaimed their original lemon? How do you know? 2. What parallels are there between differentiating many lemons and differentiating many people? What differences are there? 3. Why can't we get to know people just as rapidly as we did the lemons? What role does the skin play (for lemons and for people)?

	Resources
	Instructional	Community
Assessment: Have students write answers to the following questions: 1. What principles of human behavior does this bring to light? 2. Why is self-examination usually more difficult than evaluation of others?
Developing Healthy Attitudes Toward One's Own Sexuality
(Local Objective H-B.9)
ACTIVITY: Guide students in a discussion on developing self-esteem and taking control of their own lives when dealing with human sexuality. Have students write a list of behaviors that relate to the development of a sexual being, such as dating and selecting appropriate wearing attire. Discuss with students some of these behaviors and whether the behaviors contribute to the development of healthy and positive attitudes.	Houghton Mifflin Health, Chs. 5 and 15	6 7 9 12
Assessment: Have students write a sexual profile of themselves, including the following information: traits which may be considered as unique to themselves, influences that have helped them to develop a positive sexual self-concept, and steps which they can take to continue developing healthy attitudes toward their own sexuality. Ask for volunteers to share their profiles with the class.
Developing Self-Awareness and Skills for Self-Direction
(Essential Elements/Activities/Assessments: HE-d.2 G, PCD pp. 64-65; b.1A, CHE pp. 1-4; b-1 B, CHE pp. 4-7; d.2B, PCD pp. 38-44)		16 20
EMOTIONS AND THEIR EFFECTS
Dealing with Peer Pressure
(Local Objectives: Psychology B.6)
ACTIVITY: Most of us have been brought up to believe that it is not "right" to say nice things about one's self or others. This activity attempts to change that attitude by having teams of two students share some personal qualities with one another. In this exercise, each person provides his or her partner with the response to one, two, or all three of the following suggested dimensions. 1. Two physical attributes I like in myself 2. Two personality qualities I like in myself 3. One talent or skill I like in myself Explain that each comment must be a positive one. No negative comments are allowed! (Since most students will not have experienced such a positive encounter, it may take some gentle nudging on your part to get them started.)		4 16 20 21
Discussion Questions: 1. On hearing the assignment, how many of you smiled slightly, looked at your partner, and said, "You go first"? 2. Did you find this to be a difficult assignment to start? 3. How do you feel about it now?

	Resources
	Instructional	Community
Assessment: Have students answers to the following questions: 1. What other positive attributes or qualities could be included in this activity? 2. Why is it difficult for us to say positive things about ourselves?
ACTIVITY: Pass out four 3 x 8 strips of paper to each student. Write four stems on the board or call out one at a time. Give class a very limited amount of time to answer the four questions (2-3 minutes, 30-45 seconds per question). 1. I feel angry when others ..... 2. I think my anger is ..... 3. When others express anger towards me, I ..... 4. I think that the anger of others ..... After all students have answered the questions, have them tape answers to their chest, their backs, their desk, or the wall. Process this experience in small groups of 8-10 per group. Appoint group moderators to be sure all have an opportunity for "air time." During the group process, encourage students to recognize that people express anger in different ways, experience the anger of others differently, and have different feelings and ideas about anger (or any other emotion).	Argus-A Division of DLM Communications Lifeline (1975)
Assessment: Have students answer the following question: How do people express anger in different ways?
Distinguishing Between Positive and Negative Attitudes Toward Life (Local Objective: H-B.3) ACTIVITY: Divide the class into two groups. Have one group develop a list of examples that indicate a positive attitude toward life. Have the other group develop a list of examples that indicate a negative attitude toward life. Assessment: Have each group present a report to the class. Have students add items to both lists and discuss those items where there are differences of opinions.	Houghton Mifflin Health, pp. 74-75	6 9 12 14 17
Distinguishing Among Different Kinds of Love (Local Objective: H -B.5) ACTIVITY: Discuss with students the concept that love can be communicated in many different ways. Just as love is expressed in many ways, there are also several types of love. Discuss love for a friend, family love, love in marriage, love of country, and love for humanity. Emphasize how these types of love differ from each other. Assessment: Have students write a one-page report on "The Loves of My Life." Three types of love must be included in the report, as well as an explanation as to how each love is different from the others. Students may volunteer to share their reports with the class or in small groups.	Houghton Mifflin Health, pp. 80-81	12 14 17
Fostering Emotional and Social Development (Essential Elements/Activities/Assessments: HE-b.1B, CHE pp. 4-7; e.3b, ACD pp. 61; d.2B, PCD pp. 38-44)		16 19

INSTRUCTIONAL STRATEGIES

"Many instructional models have been developed for educating our youth. Instructional methods should provide opportunities for the students to organize their ideas in ways meaningful to them. We recognize that a variety of instructional methods is appropriate. Certain methods may be effective for developing skills, while another method may be more effective for higher level thought. Variety in instructional methods has been shown to be crucially important."
--Grayson H. Wheatley

Students Generally Remember:

TEACHING STRATEGIES

for Cueing THINKING in the CLASSROOM

"Strategy 1"

Think-Pair-Share

Think-Pair-Share is a multimode discussion cycle in which students listen to a question or presentation, have time to "think" individually, talk with each other in "pairs" and finally "share" responses with the larger group. The teacher signals students to switch from "listen" to "think" to "pair" to "share" by using cues (fig. 1).

Students raise their hands only on signals, not directly after the question or a response. Students may write or diagram their thoughts. In this activity, teachers also give cues on options for "how" students are to think or work in pairs. For instance, teachers may cue the students to reach concensus, engage in problem solving, or assume the role of devil's advocate (fig. 2).

Reading Reference Bookmark

While you read--
Tell
yourself what the author says.
Ask
yourself if what you are reading makes sense.
Picture
what the author describes.
Identify
the main ideas.
Predict
what will come next.

If you don't understand--
Identify
the problem.
Remind
yourself of what you want to find out.
Look Back.
Look Ahead.
Slow Down.
Ask
for help.

After you read--
Retell
what you read in your own words.
Summarize
the most important ideas.
Ask
yourself questions and answer them.
Picture
in your mind what the author described.
Decide
what was especially interesting or enjoyable.

Ready Reading Reference

If one analyzes the differences between good and poor readers, the importance of the strategic behaviors that good readers spontaneously employ before, during, and after their reading would be obvious.

The Ready Reading Reference bookmark was developed to summarize knowledge about "good reader" strategies. The bookmark serves as a tangible instructional tool and a concrete cue for students during independent reading.

These instructional tools can easily be made for classroom use and adapted to the appropriate grade.

Questioning/Discussion Strategies Bookmark

Teachers can integrate effective questioning and discussion strategies into their daily repertoires by referring to a "cueing" bookmark which features question starters on one side and discussion strategies on the other. During classroom discussion, the bookmark reminds teachers to use these promising strategies .

Strategies to Extend Student Thinking

- Remember "wait time I and II"
  Provides at least three seconds of thinking time after a question and after a response
- Utilize "think-pair-share"
  Allow individual thinking time, discussion with a partner, and then open up the class discussion
- Ask "follow-ups"
  Why? Do you agree? Can you elaborate? Tell me more. Can you give an example?
- Withold judgment
  Respond to student answers in a non-evaluative fashion
- Ask for summary (to promote active listening)
  "Could you please summarize John's point?"
- Survey the class
  "How many people agree with the author's point of view?" ("thumbs up, thumbs down")
- Allow for student calling
  "Richard, will you please call on someone else to respond?"
- Play devil's advocate
  Require students to defend their reasoning against different points of view
- Ask students to "unpack their thinking"
  "Describe how you arrived at your answer." ("think aloud")
- Call on students randomly
  Not just those with raised hands
- Student questioning
  Let the students develop their own questions
- Cue student responses
  "There is not a single correct answer for this question. I want you to consider alternatives."

"Strategy 4"

Cognitive Mapping

Cognitive maps are effective tools for helping students improve their organizational abilities. These provide a visual, holistic representation of facts and concepts and their relationships within an organizational framework. They help students to 1) represent abstract or implicit information in more concrete form 2) depict the relationships among facts and concepts 3) generate and elaborate ideas; 4) relate new information to prior knowledge and 5) store and retrieve information. These cognitive maps become blueprints for oral discourse and written composition .

"Strategy 5"

Problem-Solving Strategies Wheel

Teachers who wish to improve student problem solving can spend classroom time examining the solution "process" along with the final answer, model their own strategic reasoning by "thinking aloud," and provide explicit instruction in problem-solving heuristics, using a Problem Solving Strategies Wheel. Teachers should project the wheel on a transparency or draw a wheel on a large piece of posterboard, thereby making it an instructional tool that reminds teachers and students of the strategies of the experts.

Read the problem carefullly. Re-read if necessary.
Determine the meaning of key words or special terms
State the goal in your own words.
List the important information
Draw a picture or diagram of the problem
Look for patterns.
Break the problem into smaller pieces.
Recall similar problems and recall how they were solved.
Use systematic trial and error (guess and check).
Work backwards from the final result.
Be flexible. Try different approaches.
Match your solution with the original goal. Does it make sense? Is it accurate?

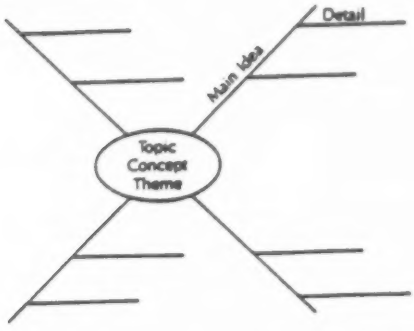
GRAPHIC ORGANIZERS

Graphic representations are visual illustrations of verbal statements. Frames are sets of questions or categories that are fundamental to understanding a given topic. Here are shown nine "generic" graphic forms with their corresponding frames. Also given are examples of topics that could be represented by each graphic form. These graphics show at a glance the key parts of the whole and their relations, helping the learner to comprehend text and solve problems.

Spider Map



Used to describe a central idea: a thing (a geographic region), process (meiosis), concept (altruism), or proposition with support (experimental drugs should be available to AIDS victims). Key frame questions: What is the central idea? What are its attributes? What are its functions?

Continuum/Scale

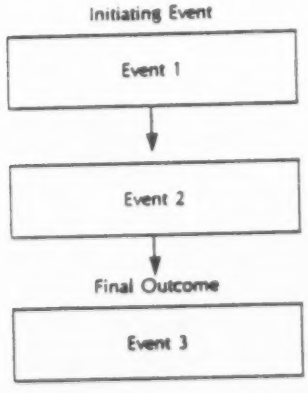
Used for time lines showing historical events or ages (grade levels in school), degrees of something (weight, shades of meaning (Likert scales), or ratings scales (achievement in school). Key frame questions: What is being scaled? What are the end points?

Compare/Contrast Matrix

	Name 1	Name 2
Attribute 1
Attribute 2
Attribute 3

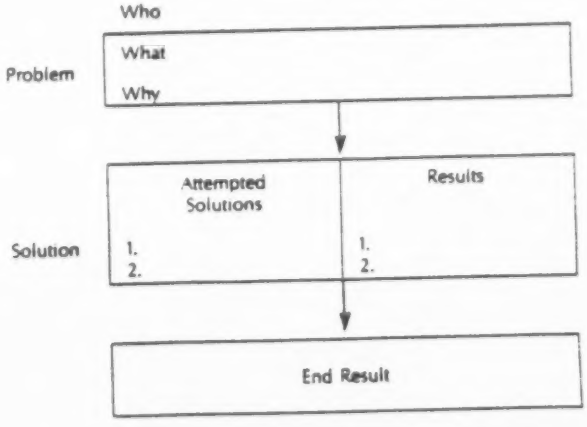
Used to show similarities and differences between two things (people, places, events, ideas, etc.). Key frame questions: What things are being compared? How are they similar? How are they different?

Series of Events Chain



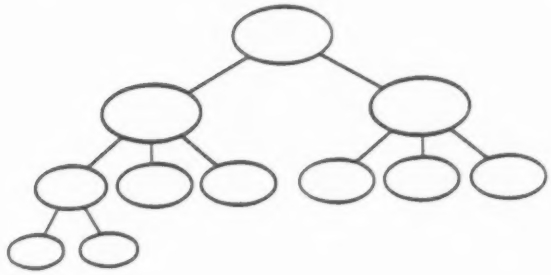
Used to describe the stages of something (the life cycle of a primate); the steps in a linear procedure (how to neutralize an acid); a sequence of events (how feudalism led to the formation of nation states); or the goals, actions, and outcomes of a historical figure or character in a novel (the rise and fall of Napoleon). Key frame questions: What is the object, procedure, or initiating event? What are the stages or steps? How do they lead to one another? What is the final outcome?

Problem/Solution Outline



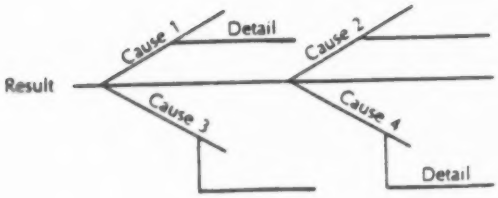
Used to represent a problem, attempted solutions, and results (the national debt). Key frame questions: What was the problem? Who had the problem? Why was it a problem? What attempts were made to solve the problem? Did those attempts succeed?

Network Tree



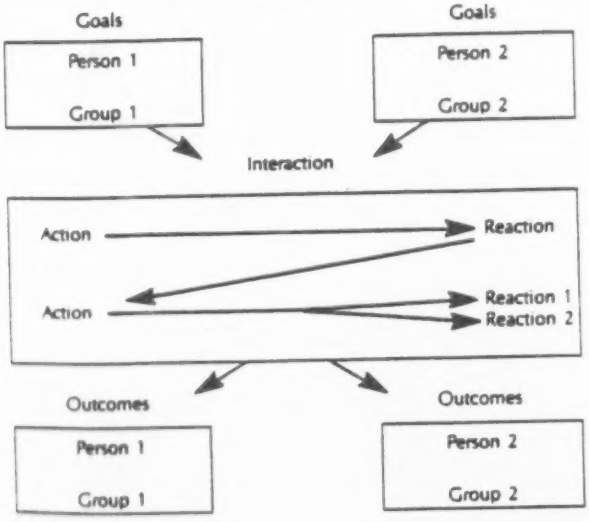
Used to show causal information (causes of poverty), a hierarchy (types of insects), or branching procedures (the circulatory system). Key frame questions: What is the superordinate category? What are the subordinate categories? How are they related? How many levels are there?

Fishbone Map



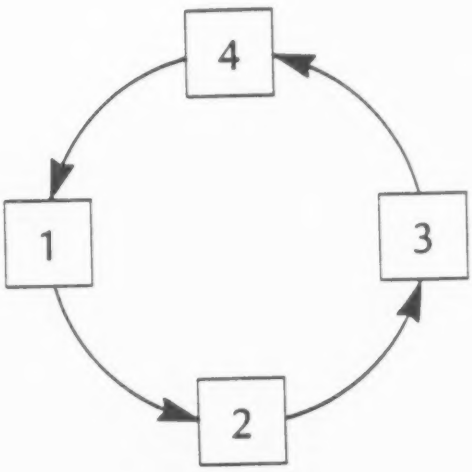
Used to show the causal interaction of a complex event (an election, a nuclear explosion) or complex phenomenon (juvenile delinquency, learning disabilities). Key frame questions: What are the factors that cause X? How do they interrelate? Are the factors that cause X the same as those that cause X to persist?

Human Interaction Outline



Used to show the nature of an interaction between persons or groups (European settlers and American Indians). Key frame questions: Who are the persons or groups? What were their goals? Did they conflict or cooperate? What was the outcome for each person or group?

Cycle



Used to show how a series of events interact to produce a set of results again and again (weather phenomena, cycles of achievement and failure, the life cycle). Key frame questions: What are the critical events in the cycle? How are they related? In what ways are they self-reinforcing?

WEBBING

WEBBING is a method of brainstorming or generating ideas on a given topic in which connections among related ideas are shown. By doing a webbing activity, a teacher can determine what the class knows about a certain subject.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Choose a major topic.
2. Divide the topic into subtopics.
3. Show connections between related ideas.

DECISION MAKING

DECISION MAKING is a process leading to the selection of one of several options after consideration of facts, ideas, possible alternatives, probable consequences, and personal values.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Identify the problem.
2. Think of alternative solutions.
3. Establish criteria for weighing each alternative.
4. Weigh the alternatives on the basis of the criteria.
5. Choose the alternative which is rated best.
6. Give reasons for your choice.

TASK ANALYSIS

TASK ANALYSIS is a system for breaking down a task into fundamental skills and subskills. The first step is to define the final performance goal and then to list the skills necessary to attain that goal. This skill is fundamental in problem-solving activities.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Define the final performance goal.
2. List the steps and skills necessary to reach that goal.
3. Follow the steps to determine if they produce the goal.

BRAINSTORMING

The Goal of Brainstorming is to:

1. PRODUCE MANY RESPONSES
2. ACCEPT ALL RESPONSES
3. WITHHOLD PRAISE OR JUDGMENT OF ANY SINGLE RESPONSE GIVEN
4. PROVIDE AN ACCEPTING ATMOSPHERE
5. HITCHHIKE ON EACH OTHER'S IDEAS
6. AIM FOR QUANTITY—NOT ALL RESPONSES WILL BE OF HIGH QUALITY

GENERALIZATION

A GENERALIZATION is a rule, principle, or formula that governs or explains a number of related situations.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Collect, organize, and examine the material.
2. Identify the common characteristics.
3. Make and state a generalization based on the common characteristics.
4. Find other instances in which the generalization is true.
5. Try to transfer the generalization to other situations or uses.

ANALOGY

An ANALOGY is a comparison which points out similarities between two things that might be different in all other respects or circumstances.
Example: Shoe is to foot as mitten is to (hand).
Nose is to smell as ear is to (hear).

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Select items that are to be compared.
2. Identify the common clues in the items.
3. Determine how the first two items are related.
4. Complete the analogy by choosing the item that relates to the third item in the same way.

CREATIVE THINKING STRATEGIES

FLUENCY

FLUENCY is the ability to produce common responses to a given situation. The emphasis is on quantity rather than on quality. The intent is to build a large store of information or material for further, selective use.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Define the situation and determine the category.
2. Ask the students for many responses.
3. Follow brainstorming rules.
4. List all ideas given.

FLEXIBILITY

FLEXIBILITY is the ability to respond in a variety of categories, to group responses into new uses for familiar objects or situations. Flexibility requires thinking beyond the usual and obvious to the new and original. In the story of the OX-CART MAN, who would expect the farmer to sell his boxes, his ox-cart, his ox, and the ox's yoke and harness, walk home, and begin over again? As with flexibility, the best responses require time to develop. Students need time to incubate the best ideas.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Identify the information to be used.
2. Examine the items to be used.
3. Identify many categories for the material.
4. Respond with new and creative categories or uses.

ORIGINALITY

ORIGINALITY is the ability to generate novel, nontraditional, or unexpected ideas and to interpret these ideas in clever, unique products.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Determine and define the situation.
2. Ask for original, unique ideas.
3. Provide products for sharing the original idea.

ELABORATION

ELABORATION is the process of adding details to an existing product. Introduce the story by discussing stories of fairies, princesses, knights, kings, and dragons. Help the students elaborate on the basic design of a dinosaur to create a dragon.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Examine the basic idea or object to be changed or improved by elaboration.
2. Define the basic idea.
3. Decide how to add to or expand on the basic idea to make it more interesting or complete.
4. Add details to develop a more interesting or useful idea.

DISCOVERY

DISCOVERY is a method of teaching the processes of science or problem solving in which the teacher silently conducts the demonstration and the students attempt to determine why what is shown occurs.

PROCESS STEPS:

1. Silently show the demonstration after telling the group to watch carefully and challenging them to try to determine why what they see occurs.
2. Collect observations on the chalkboard.
3. Have the class ask questions that can be answered by yes or no in order to obtain information to supplement their observations.
4. Ask if there are any operational questions that could be investigated or other demonstrations that need to be done in order to supply more information. Allow time to investigate or to perform the desired demonstrations.
5. Collect on the chalkboard those points or factors that the class deems important to the problem solution.
6. Call for a solution, or multiple solutions, to the problem. Children should not only present their solutions but also present supporting evidence from the problem-solving session.

COOPERATIVE LEARNING

Cooperative learning is a systematic model for teaching content while having students practice skills necessary for effective group work. The basic principles of cooperative learning are:

1. Face-to-face interaction
2. Individual accountability
3. Positive interdependence
4. Social skills
5. Group processing

QUICK COOPERATIVE STARTERS

Learning Partners: Ask the students to turn to a neighbor and ask him/her something about the lesson, to explain a concept you've just taught, to explain the assignment, to explain how to do what you've just taught, to summarize the three most important points of the discussion, or whatever fits the lesson.

Reading Groups: Students read material together and answer the questions. One person is the Reader, another the Recorder, and the third the Checker (who checks to make certain everyone understands, agrees with, and can explain the answers). They must come up with three possible answers to each question and circle their favorite one. When finished, they sign the paper to certify that they all understand, agree on, and can explain the answers.

Bookends: Before a film, lecture, or a reading, have students summarize together what they already know about the subject and come up with questions they have about it. Afterwards, the trios answer questions, discuss new information, and formulate new questions.

Jigsaw: Each person reads and studies part of a selection with a partner, practices teaching the section with a new partner (student studying same section from another group), then teaches what he or she has learned to the other members of the group. Each then quizzes the group members until satisfied that everyone knows all parts thoroughly.

Drill Partners: Have students drill each other on the facts they need to know until they are certain both partners know and can remember them all. This works for spelling, vocabulary, math, grammar, test review, etc. Give bonus points on the test if all members score above a certain percentage.

Reading Buddies: In lower grades, have students read their stories to each other, getting help with words and discussing content with their partners. In upper grades, have students tell about their books and read their favorite parts to each other.

Worksheet Checkmates: Have two students, each with different jobs, do one worksheet. The Teacher reads, then suggests an answer; the Writer either agrees or comes up with another answer. When they both understand and agree on an answer, the Writer can write it.

Homework Checkers: Have students compare homework answers, discuss any they have not answered similarly, then correct their papers and add the reason they changed an answer. Make certain everyone's answers agree, then staple the papers together. Grade one paper from each group and give group members that grade.

Test Reviewers: Have students prepare each other for a test. They get bonus points if every group member scores above a preset level.

Composition Pairs: Student A explains what she/he plans to write to Student B, while Student B takes notes or makes an outline. Together they plan the opening or the thesis statement. Then Student B explains while Student A writes. They exchange outlines and use them in writing their papers.

Problem Solvers: Give groups a problem to solve. Each student must contribute part of the solution. Groups can decide who does what, but they must show where all members contributed. Or, they can decide together, but each must be able to explain how to solve the problem.

Computer Groups: Students work together on the computer. They must agree on the input before it is typed in. One person is the Keyboard Operator, another the Monitor Reader, a third the Verifier (who collects opinions on the input from the other two and makes the final decision). Roles are rotated daily so everyone gets experience at all three jobs.

Book Report Pairs: Students interview each other on the books they read, then they report on their partner's book.

Writing Response Groups: Students read and respond to each other's papers three times:

1. They mark what they like with a star and put a question mark anywhere there is something they don't understand or think is weak. Then they discuss the paper as a whole with the writer.

2. They mark problems with grammar usage, punctuation, spelling, or format and discuss it with the author.

3. They proofread the final draft and point out any errors for the author to correct.

Teachers can assign questions for students to answer about their group members' papers to help them focus on certain problems or skills.

Report Groups: Students research a topic together. Each one is responsible for checking at least one different source and writing at least three notecards of information. They write the report together; each person is responsible for seeing that his/her information is included. For oral reports, each must take a part and help others rehearse until they are at ease.

Summary Pairs: Have students alternate reading and orally summarizing paragraphs. One reads and summarizes while the other checks the paragraph for accuracy and adds anything left out. They alternate roles with each paragraph.

Elaborating and Relating Pairs: Have students elaborate on what they are reading and learning by relating it to what they already know about the subject. This can be done before and after reading a selection, listening to a lecture, or seeing a film.

PROBLEM-SOLVING SEQUENCE

by L. S. Shulman

1. Problem sensing, in which a person initially detects, to his discomfort, that some kind of problem or incongruity exists.

2. Problem formulating, wherein the person subjectively defines a particular problem and develops his own anticipated form of solution.

3. Searching, in which the individual questions, hypothesizes, gathers information, and occasionally backtracks.

4. Problem resolving, the final phase in which the person becomes satisfied that he has solved the problem or "found out why," thus removing the disequilibrium.

PROBLEM-SOLVING HEURISTICS

by Stephen Krulik and Jesse Rudnick

1. Read

   1a. Note key words.
   1b. Get to know the problem setting.
   1c. What is being asked for.
   1d. Restate the problem in your own words.

2. Explore

   2a. Draw a diagram, or construct a model.
   2b. Make a chart. Record the data.
   2c. Look for patterns.

3. Select a Strategy

   3a. Experiment
   3b. Look for a simpler problem.
   3c. Conjecture/guess.
   3d. Form a tentative hypothesis.
   3e. Assume a solution.

4. Solve

   4a. Carry through your strategy.

5. Review and Extend

   5a. Verify your answer.
   5b. Look for interesting variations on the original problem.

Instructional Planning Models

The key to successful teaching is good planning. There is no substitute for it. Good planning helps create correct discipline, pleasant atmosphere in the class, and puposeful activity free from dead spots and waste motion—in short, good planning promotes worthwhile learning. No one can teach well for long without planning well.

—Leonard H. Clark

PLANNING MODEL

UNIT/MAJOR OBJECTIVE

Compare and contrast life in the various American Colonies

OBJECTIVES

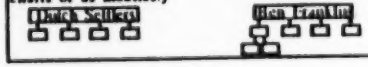
1. Describe the influence of geography, government, and religion on the growth and development of the New England Colonies.
2. Describe the influence of geography, government, and significant persons and groups on growth and development of the Middle Colonies.
3. Describe the influence of geography, economics, and slavery on growth and development of the Southern Colonies.

ASSESSMENT TYPES

Assessment Type # 1
Using the map, label the Middle Colonies, their major cities, and bodies of water.

Assessment Type # 2
Writing Assignment: Discuss at least three examples of how geography affected growth and development of the Middle Colonies. Be sure to elaborate on your examples.

Assessment Type # 3
Divide students into six groups. From a list of individuals and groups who influenced development of the Middle Colonies, each group will select a subject for research and organize the information collected. Research reports will be presented orally. (Information maps could be presented on charts or as mobiles.)



Other Assessment Types
- Individual Student Projects
- Teacher Observations
- Independent Research
- Other products such as murals, timelines, and models

PLANNING MODEL

UNIT/MAJOR OBJECTIVE

Compare and contrast life in the American Colonies

OBJECTIVES

1. Describe the influence of geography, government, and religion on the growth and development of the New England Colonies.
2. Describe the influence of geography, government, and significant persons and groups on growth and development of the Middle Colonies.
3. Describe the influence of geography, economics, and slavery on growth and development of the Southern Colonies.

INSTRUCTIONAL ACTIVITIES

Instructional Activity # 1

Using a wall map, locate the Middle Colonies. As each colony is located, ask students to discuss the following:

- How did geography affect development?
- What were the major cities and resources?
- What groups settled in the colony?
- Describe what social life was like and how it was influenced by geographic factors (e.g., weather, natural resources, proximity to other colonies)

Instructional Activity # 2

Divide class into four groups. Assign each group one of the Middle Colonies. Have them imagine they are proprietors and must decide on five laws they will make for their colonies. Students will publish their "charters" and be able to discuss the rationale for their charter and the similarities and differences among all of the charters.

Instructional Activity #3

As the teacher delivers a mini-lecture, students will take notes by completing the matrix outline. Students will discuss any noted similarities and differences among the geography, government, and significant persons and groups in each colony.

Other Instructional Activities

- Field trips to local museums to examine artifacts and original sources
- Small cooperative discussion groups
- Interrupted film technique with guided discussion
- Review and discussion of Colonial literature
